No. 2.

Tae josition of a citizen of Wil mington, one interested in its corporate soundness and material prosperity just at this time, is like that of a man who stands on the river bank and sees the ship freighted with all of his property go by to certain and irretrievable disasier, without the power to arrest her progress. The person who stands at the financial helm, although a good seaman in his way, having no interest in the cargo or freight can have little or none in her destination or the successful termination of the voyage, while the other officers, unmindful of the fact that the vessel is rapidly getting in a current when return to smooth water will be impossible, spend their time feeding and fattening on the good thing that come from the galley. Notwithstanding the fact that the vessel has long had on board enough to render it extremely doubtful whether she could make the trip, the officers stop to take on a couple of market houses and water works, besides the incumbrance of well paid, do-nothing officers. The leaks are not stopped, beither is any attention paid to the direction of this valnable vessel, and the only spasm of economy, if it can be called such, was when the officers of this cruiser, al though voting to increase their salares, and to overload the vesset with the market house, because some of them were interested in its being on board, were nevertheless in favor of lightering the United States: the vessel by throwing overboard the necessary baggage of the sailors, which was the case when these officers reduced the salary of the policemen ten cents a sny place subject to 'h ir jurisdiction; day. Such is the picture presented, and it will be hard to convince any one who knows that it is a truthful picture of the condition of the city government to-day. If people are hard to convince, let them ponder these questions: Why do we not have the usual yearly exhibit of expenses of the city? Why is it that the present officers are in no burrymany of them have been heretofore to make a comparison between last year, or the last two years expenses, with previous years, under different boards? How is it? "Ah, there is the rub." They will not bear comparison They say the appropriations have fallen short-ab, indeed! Quite likely. How much taxes have been collected How much of the debt or interest has been paid? Not a word out of them. Well, let any one take the small amount of taxes collected, deduct from that the expenses of the present year, insalaries, expenses of the water works, etc., and see how far the city is behind? Where is the boasted economy, retrenchment and reform? We say these things for Democrats, for they have it all in their own hands but while they have every citizen is interested in the proper and economical administration of affairs.

a scale. Of course there are many men, entirely honest, who postpone too long the payment of their debts, and others who, from unforceson misfortunes, are not able to meet their obligations. But there are too many people, able enough to pay, who feel, when they have bought a thing on credit that they have made just so much clear; and the devil will roast these people just as surely as he will Polk and Vincent.—Land Mark.

And all this out of a revenue from taxation about $120,000 a year, if it was all collected, but it never is, not near all of it, and out of what is collected has to come first and foremost the annual expenses, this year some sixty five or saventy thousand dollars, which does not include the interest to be paid on a debt of $600,000, nor the other enor mous and extraordinary purchases made by the present board.

> And why are taxes not all collected? It is charged that there is a good deal of favoritism about this; that every Dutch: man, Irishman, Jew or cotored man that keeps any sort of an establishment, be it ever so insignificant, has to como up every month or a policeman will be sent to use dire and summary vengeabe against him. But it is said that the books will show many a bourbon blood, so called, whose tax account looks as if he had used his own pleas ure whether he paid taxes or not, and was not very frequently affected in that

Plots Against The Czar-

LONDON Feb 26, 1883.—It is report ted that the anarchist documents seized in Brussels show that a plot has been organized to murder the Czar of Russia on the occasion of his coronation in May. It is rumored in Paris that the disclosures made in connection with the dynamite explosion at Ganshorten and the seizure of papers at Brussels will lead to the arrest of Louise Michel and several of her colleagues. The house of an anarchist in Brussels who entertained Louise Michel when she was there recently was searched yesterday by the police, who seized three trunks. The man who was not wounded by the explosion is named Cyvoct. He is a weaver, from Lyons. It is said the French government has demended his extradition. The Brussels Gazette says the majority of the documents which have been seized in connection with the explosion at Gans-horten are written in Russian and Italian. They refer to an international

WILMINGTON, N. C., SUNDAY MORNING, MARCH 4, 1883.

AN OUTRAGE. We learn that the legislature of this state have passed an act which requires the legal voteres in the city of Wilmington, before they can be allowed to deposit their votes at an election held in the city, to state on oath the number of the lot or part of lot on which they reside, and also the number of the block on which the lot is situated. It is to have failed to add to the number of the be remembered that the lots or blocks in Wilmington, are not designated by any numbers so as to distinguished one lot, or one block from any other lot or block, so that a person by any inspection of his premises can for himself determine the number of the lot or block upon which he resides. It is true these lots and blocks are numbered and designated on a plan of the city of Wilmington and that plan is in the City Hall and may by leave of the city officials be inspected by any citizen, but it is well known that there are many legal voters in this city who could not by an inspection of the plan of the city be able to ascertain the number of the lot upon which they reside. This fact was well known to the artful dodgers who promoted this action on the part of the legislature, and their avowed purpose was to exclude that large class of our fellow citizens from enjoying the right of suffrage secured to them by the constitution.

casion to admonish those who may undertake to exclude a freeman legally entitled under the constitution, from the exercise of that privilege by reason of his not stating the number of the block, and the number of the lot upon which he resides, that they will be prosecuted to the extent of the law .-The provision of the state constitution is, Article VI, Sec., 1. "Every male person born in the United States, and every male person who has been naturalized, twenty-one years old or upward, who shall have resided in the state twelve months next preceding the election, and ninety days in the county in which he offers to vote, shall be deemed an elector." By what authority then, we ask, is it that the legislature can impose the restriction that no man shall vote who does not declare on oath the number of the block, and the lot upon which he resides before he deposits his ballot. Can any ope imagine a more arbitrary, tyranical, unjust? cruel, and unconstitutional law. Suppose congress were to enact such a law with regard to the election of members of congress, does any one suppose for duty to proclaim from the house top mand made by Gen. Mahone, and that one moment that the people of these that these bourbons mean to again his generous course has been prompted United States, boasting of free govern- bring desolation upon this fair land by by the noblest motives. Gen. Mahone ment, and in this enlightened age would submit to the excise of such and the whites, with a view to gratify made by him, and that the Republican despotic power? Is this the boasted Democracy of the bourbons? It is said that those whom the Gods wish to destroy they first make mad. That may be so, but we rather think it would rethese mad men. Has any such requirement been exacted of the voters in state, or indeed of any other state? they are preparing for the next presidential election, and they much mistake the people who love freedom and liberty if they suppose they will not, when the time arrives, put their condemnation upon such miserable, contemptible trickery. Why, the next thing we hear of they will require the voter to wear a collar with his number engraved upon it, or penitentiary suit with his number painted on the back or front of his parti-colored jacket? Why not? Would not one be just as constitutional as the other? Indeed, it would serve the bourobject, they would come to the polls, "marked and numbered, as in the mar-

It is too plain why Wilmington has been singled out for this oppression. The reason is obvious there is in this city a large majority of Republicans, and many of them are colored men; and the bourbons are determined to deprive them of the elective franchise, constitution or no constitution; far and me fas, Will the people of the a consequence to consolidation, state sanction such injustice and open violation of a constitution they themselves have framed and sworn to support.

STATES RIGHTS AND THE RIGHTS OF THE STATES. These terms would seem to be synonymous, and in general they would be so, but politicians do not so treat them, and rarely if ever do the courts when speaking of the rights of the states under the constitution speak of those rights as states rights. States rights was the alogua of the Democracy before the war and during the secession days, it is the cry of the bourbons to-day. Union Are those fire-enters really in favor of the rights of the states under the constitution? Do they realty mean a desire to promote the interest of the people of mean to inflame the minds of the masses to aid these howlers for states rights in securing office under the general government? What have they done looking to the interest of the state? The Democratic party have been in power, (I will not say in the majority) in this state since eighteen hundred and seventy-six; since that time there has been six sessions of the legislature, and yet the people have received no benefit from the laws that have been enacted. They have not provided for the wants of the people by increasing the number of the judges on the Supreme Court, who everybody knows are over worked; they circuit judges and have consequently entailed upon the people the costs and delays in asserting their rights in the Superior Court. They have enacted laws for the education of the people, in pursuance of the mandates of the state constitution, which compels them to levy a tax fer the support of common schools for all the children in the state between the ages of six and twenty-one years, and which mandate provides that there shall be no discrimination between the two races of our fellow citizens, yet they are at this very moment agitating the question of amending the constitution,

so that the tax raised from the property and polls of the whites, shall alone

be appropriated to the education of the whites; and the tax raised from the colored citizens shall be appropriated to the colored children, thus making war upon the colored people, and stiring up strife between the races and looking down with contempt upon the labor which contributes so largely to We denounce such action as a conthe production of cotton and corn, and temptible set of tyranny on the part rice, and is indispensible to the many of these mean fellows, and we take ocinterests of the states. At the present session of the General Assembly a bill to erect a dwelling for the intention of one in whose compathe Governor of the state was introduced, and the small sum of less than quire a devil incarnate to deal with ten thousand dollars would have been required to be raised by taxation, a tax not amounting to one cent per capita, any other city, town, or county of the upon the whole population of the state, was with difficulty passed and became We tell these bourbons to beware, they a law. A case in point is the discussion in Democratic papers concerning General Mahone. That gentleman chooses to act with the Republicans in the United States senate, and the Republicans of Virginia choose to act with his friends in that state. This has wrought disaster to the bourbons in both cases.

In Virginia it has permanently destroyed bourbon power, placed the state in liberal and patriotic control, and given two senators and six members of congress to a friendly alliance with the Republican party. In the senate, in March, 1881, Mahone's vote

gave the committees to the Republicans. This was very distressing to the opposition for they had to yield up the chairmanships and clerkships, and the power to stifle legislation and executive nominations in committee. At the special session of October, 1881, the vote of Mahone placed David Davis in the chair. If the bourbons could have controlled the single vote of Mahone, not even Judge Davis's vote added to those of the Republicans would have made the requisite majority: At the same time the committees were again made Republican by the willing yote of Gen. Mahone, without which the aid of Judge Davis would have been unavailing. The consent of the latter to accept the vice presidency companied with a willingness on his part to vote with the Republicans with refunder the constitution, and not setting Mr. Davis to vote with the Republihave sworn to support and maintain in the senate. These are all facts well ple, or are attempting to do so, by rais- They are a part of the record of the senate. And yet Democratic editors to get possession of the federal govern- have so mean an opinion of Republican senators that they appear to think plunged this fair land into a war of blackguardism against Mahone which ruin and devastation to the people of constitutes so large a staple in the bourwatch-tower of liberty, and it is our know that there never has been a desenators are not likely to accept the statements of opposition editors as to ny they sit from day to day. The old adage is applicable that the proof of the pudding is in the eating. Of course the bourbon enemies of the Republican party and of the readjusters are awfully afraid that the amicable relations between them will do harm to one or the other. In Virginia it is the readical philanthropists. In the north it is their solicitude. They would fain guard each side from the aid of the other, as a ness two different hen roosts. Hence his dictation," &c. One day they deworking majority. Their action wi be governe d by no desire to silence the bourbon press, but will aim to be of a character so damaging to the bourbon cause that it will intensify the outery. Nothing will be demanded for anybody nothing unreasonable will be expected; nothing reasonable will be omitted, and nothing unkind will be done. The organization of the senate is but a small portion of the work before them, and objects of the future in any discussion over small matters at the outset. Re-publicans are invited by their dear bourbon guardians to join the latter in putting indignities upon Mahone and Riddleberger in the organization on the attempt to separate natural friends

LAWRENCEBURG'S VICTIMS. LAWRENCEBURG'S VICTIMS.

Lawrenceburg's Ind., less them twenty miles below Cincinnati, is full of this class of unfortunates. About two hundred houses there have been swept from their foundations and deposited all over the town, now in a neighbor's back yard and in another case in the middle of a street, half a mile away from where the house belongs. Houses have been huddled together in groups by an eddy and dropped in all sorts of position by the reped in all sorts of position by the re-ceding waters. In some cases it will be cheaper to rebuild than to move the houses back. Stories of suffering have come from Guyandotte, W. Va., and relief has been sent there. HEROISM IN HUMBLE LIFE. One striking feature of the recent ca-lamity is the fact that the worthy poor were the greatest sufferers and the most umerous and that they had to be ought out and relieved. They were cearing their fate heroically, not to say lefiantly, and were slow to ask the immediate aid they needed. New phases of distress are coming updaily and new classes and cases of suffering are coming to light and will continue to come for many weeks, unless they are met with timely assistance.

Every bourbon Democratic paper we receive brings us the mournful intelligence that senators Edmude and Hale and Hawley and Logan and Sherman, have been "used up" by Lamar and Vest and Vance and Beck; and that Burrows and Karson have been "thrashed" to death by Carlisle and Oox and Blount and Tucker, have gone down to rise no more. The task assigned to Sysiphus was mere child's play com

Democracy and Protection. The Pittsburg (Pa.) Post, a Democratic paper says: "It is a significant fact that the centiment which the Hon. H. B. Payne expressed at the Jackson banquet in Cleveland-"Revenue and protection, one and inseparable"—was applauded by the Richmond Dispatch, the most widely circulated and influential journal in Virginia, the Chattanooga Times, the Nashville American, the Macon Telegraph, the New Orleans Time-Democrat and the Picayune, the Nashville Banner, the Louisville Commercial, the Knoxville Chronicle, and other southern journals. The south is constantly collarging her manufactur-ing interests, and settling down upon a basis that can secure by a policy like the one Mr. Payne suggests".

It is no less true that "Revenue and inseparable." protection are one and inseparable," than that of "Protection and prosperity are one and inseparable." And it will not be long before the thinking people of this section will realize the truth that the true prosperty of the south is equally inseparable from protection.

No Overseer Business

The senate wisely struck out the provision in the legislative appropriation bill requiring department clerks to remain at their posts eight hours every day whether they had work before them or not. What the government wants as an employer, is that its clerks shall work while there is work to do, which will sometimes be more and sometimes less than eight hour. The idea of Uncle Sam scowling around like old Scrooge to see whether every clerk is mounted on his stool with a pen behing his ear up to a certain hour, whether needed or not, is hideous. It is restoring slavenent a planter, and every head of a bureau an overseer. Let us have no black snake whip cracking around in the corridors of our public offices Whoever draws pay from the government should work cheerfully and faithfully and faithfully for twelve hours when necessary, and should be allowed to go home whenever the work is done, even if that should sometimes be with in six hours, Away with the Scrooger, Bounderbys, and Gradgrinds. They Bounderbys, and Gradgrinds. They are poor models for American states-men.—National Republican.

Farmers and the Tariff. The following paragraph from the Hartford Times is valuable protection testimony from a Democratic journa'! Their parrot-cry of taxing the farmers for the benefit of monopolies is hollow. There is not a factory in the country-and they are springing up in every section—that does not bring $10 to the pockets of the farmers in the vicinity to every dollar expended by the farmers on account of revenue taxation. Yet there are newspapers and congress men prating day by day about the beries of the agriculturists by the protection of maufacturers. Could one of these parrots tell us how much the farmers would realize from their produce in case the manufacturing interests were broken down and all their operatives were turned into agricultur sts? We trust there is yet good sense enough among the members of Congress to pass a revenue bill that will afford protection enough to our indus trial interest to sustain them, while affording steady employment and fair wages to hundreds of thousands of workingmen,

The True Principle of Protection. Mr. Calkins, of Indiana, made a va able definition when he said: I consider it to be my duty as a re resentative of the people to protect the labor of this country. I do not care what the product of that labor may be, whether it be pig-iron or clothing or sugar or anything else. I want to protect the laborer in Louisiana just as far and as much as I want to protect the laborer in the iron-mill of Pennsylvania, Indiana, and no further. In my judgement that is all there is this question of protection. The key representatives Kelly and Hiscock and stone principle upon which this country rests is that labor is noble. Hence we should put it in the power of the laborer to get the highest wages ob tainable, not only for his own benefit, but that he may support and educate his children to become useful members senators and representatives "come to of society. That is the idea of protectime" at roll-call, to be "used up" and tion. When you go further than that I agree that protection is unsound as a

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 26 .- The Times Democrat's Vicksburg special reports that the state revenue agent has brought suit against the estate of A. G: Flannagan, ex-sheriff of Warren county for sums aggregating $70,000 for alleged failure to collect licerse taxes; also for $25,000 to $30,000 on the official bonds of W. T. Montgomery, the present county treasurer, for receiving Legal warrants in his settlements. The above, and suits against the bonds men of Herman Denis and C E. Princely Conspirators. Nothing in the conduct of the French republic is more curious than the ease with which it transforms innocuous persons into conspirators. There were three honest gentlemen serving in its army, obeying its orders with loyalty, and to day they are looking for a country house in England where their parisans may be rallied. There was a devout, timid fanatic living at Fordsdorf, saying his prayers and counting his beads, and to day he is ardently waiting for the day when he shall ascend the throne of France. There was a portly, Gasconading adventurer, posting foolish placards, dreaming valu dreams, and to-day he talks of founding a court at Brussels, where the traditions of the Bonapartes may be reli-giously observed. Indeed the fron-tiers of France are coming to resemble the "Auberge de la Conspiration Per-manete" in the operetta, where all elements of the reigning dynasty, monar-chists to-day and Republicans to-morrow, were accommodated at the short-cut notice.—Exchange.

Too New York Herald advocates th sale of potatoes, fruit and other market produce including eggs, by weight, and suggests that if such a rule cannot be adopted by legislation, that buyers combine and refuse to buy in any other manner. It is notorious that the barrels for potatoes and apples are con stantly becoming smaller, and a dozen eggs weighing from twenty-two to wenty-four ounces are certainly much less valuable in food than a dozen weighing from twenty-eight to thirtytwo ounces. If all produce was sold by weight only, the housekeeper would never have cause for complaint, and it would be no hardship for the dealer.

Section 6 of the auti-Chinese law prescribes that every Chinese person not a laborer entitled to come to the United States shall produce a certificate of the Chinese government, and declares that such certificate shall be prima facie evidence of the facts set forth in it and of the right of the bolder to enter the country. Judge Deady of the United States District Court in Oregon, has just held that the production of this certificate is not absolutely necessary, but the Chinaman without it may establish the fact by other eviperson entitled to enter the country. This decision was rendered in the case of a Chinese actor, who arrived at Portland, Oregon, but was refused permission to land because he had no certificate. BROWN & PEARSON.

Escaping a Blizzard.

The following is from "A Miners' Yarn" in the Minneapolis Tribune: was in Cheyenne after Jim had got rich and persuaded him to give me that dog of his'n, Bose. I was out huntin' one day near Laramie, when one of Rosin; them hurricanes come up and I didn't know what to do. It was perrairie all Crud around. I could see the storm acomin', but two miles off: If I run it would ketch me. If I staid thar it was death. So I jes took and shoved ole Bose's nose agin a bank and yelled "rate!" You orter have seen that dog scratch. He throwed dirt behind him like a breaking plow drawed by twenty yoke of oxen. I held on to his tail and he scratched. We hadn't got under the ground more'n two hundred feet when the storm struck us. But Bose kept scratchin'. I let him go on for a mile or so, but I told him to let up, which he did, the surprisedest dog you ever seed, because he hadn't caught up with the rat. I got back to the top of ground, went to Laramie and started the story that I had found a cave . I made $100,-000 by showing the tourists that cave, but lost it all in speculatin' in mines

A Boston Scene. "Who is this well dressed man with the sealskin overcoat, hat and gloves? He carries a gold-headed cane and is followed by a bull dog in a scarlet blanket? Do you know him?"

"Oh, yes; that is S-- the pugilist. Fine man. Hard nitter. Very popular. Always surrounded by a crowd of Tar, Crude Turpentine admiring friends, as you see him now. He is very well off; was given a benefit the other night that netted him $500."

"Indeed! he is very fortunate." "Ob, yes, a very fortunate fellow; ranks high in his profession, you see."
"Who is that white-headed, weary looking old man close behind the pugilist and his friends? Poor man, be seems thinly clad for this wintry weath.

er. Do you know him?" "Oh, yes; that is old Faithful, a country clergyman. Very learned man they say. Been a preacher of the gos-pel all his life, but poor as a rat. He had a benefic too, the other night."

"Oh, indeed! Did it net him much?" "I don't think it did. You see it was a sort of surprise party. His parish-ioners called upon him in a body, ate up everything there was in the house, and left him presents to the amount of sixty cents.

At Niagra Falls the high wind and water have driven such immense quan-tities of ice over the falls as to almost completely fill the gorge below the ice bridge, which is over 100 feet thick in places. The ice is thrown up along the shore, destroying houses and other property, and doing several thousand dollars worth of damage. Two hundred feet of the inclined railway building, and the magnificent observatory and dressing-rooms below the bank are crushed. It is the greatest ice bridge ever seen.
